

THE UNMAKING

SORTING THROUGH WHAT GOES AND WHAT SHOULD STAY

I used Nichole Nordeman's song "The Unmaking" as a launching pad on Episode 72 of the "More Than a Song" podcast to fling us into Scripture and Naomi's story found in the Book of Ruth. When we are sitting in the rubble of our circumstances, it is important to value the "bricks" of our history that can be used to rebuild. It is equally important to determine which "bricks" should remain in the rubble pile. I came up with a short list of things that should go and things that should stay in Naomi's life. Take the next step with me and apply it to your own life as well.
