Hi. I'm Michelle!

PODCASTER | SPEAKER | AUTHOR

I'm Michelle Nezat, and in all of my efforts, whether it be public speaking, teaching classes at church, writing, or on my podcast, my goal is to inspire others to discover and meditate on God's Word.

I'm a Cajun girl living in Louisiana but was born and raised in Idaho. I have been a follower of Christ for as long as I can remember, and that is what has shaped my life the most. I am married to a strong, godly man with an entrepreneurial spirit and seemingly unlimited reserves of support for me. I have two gorgeous, creative girls who keep me busy and inspired.

I am a marketer by education and by trade. I most recently served for a decade as the Director of Institutional Advancement at a local Christian school. I am an active member of my Bible-believing, gospel-preaching, community-serving church. I have a year of Bible college under my belt, but am a voracious reader and did not stop my education when I stopped taking formal Bible classes.

The Podcast

MORE THAN A SONG

More Than a Song is a bi-weekly podcast dedicated to helping listeners discover the truth of Scripture hidden in today's popular Christian music.

I've been creating new podcast episodes since 2014, taking songs that are playing on the radio and pointing my listeners back to God's Word. My podcasts are not an editorial on the song. Sometimes I share the back story if I can find it, but I never lose sight of what is really important — getting into God's Word and letting Scripture speak louder than any lyric.

The Bible is a big book, so each week on my More Than a Song podcast, I give simple, practical tools to help take a BITE out of Scripture. I call them Bible Interaction Tool Exercises...B.I.T.E.s

These are the same tools I use to keep my own Bible study time varied, fresh, and effective. I long to inspire an unreasonable desire for God's Word that will lead to an unsurpassable relationship with God Himself.

Friday With Friends

BONUS EPISODES OF MORE THAN A SONG

I have the distinct privilege of meeting incredible followers of Christ who have amazing ministries, fascinating careers, and incredible hobbies and pet projects that flow out of their identity in Christ.

While my podcast is a solo show, I still wanted a venue to introduce my listeners to these friends as examples of the multifaceted ways God works in and through His people.

Sometimes these followers of Christ are associated with Christian music, and sometimes not, but they all have one thing in common with me...they love God's Word and want others to read it, too.

SOME OF MY GUESTS INCLUDE...

A unique aspect of my Friday With Friends episodes is that I feature them both on the podcast and on my YouTube channel @michellenezatTV

Listener Reviews

“I love how Michelle breaks down the Word in “BITE” size portions! If you are looking for a podcast that helps you understand and read your Bible, look no further!!!

“I was initially drawn to this site due to my appreciation of Christian Contemporary Music. I soon learned it was much more than just music. Michelle’s in-depth discussions of a myriad of biblical messages are superb. Just an excellent presentation. It has become my favorite podcast. Thank you, Michelle Nezat, for all the work you put into this inspired teaching.
